

You have been chosen to Lead

Congratulations to a rising star
For you have been chosen to lead;
To challenge workers and to raise the bar
And inspire colleagues to succeed;
At times, as leader to enforce
The strategies to stay on course.

Congratulations on your latest move
Which compensates you for results.
Self-discipline and habits prove
You can achieve the difficult,
And now you have received the charge,
To process projects twice as large.

Congratulations as you learn the rules;
Care and your people will succeed,
For motivation is the fuel
To give those fully trained, the spark they need
To lift themselves to higher heights
With focus on the proper sights.

Congratulations on your just reward
For you have been chosen to lead;
An honor that companies can't afford
To give to those who would impede
Earnings per share and profit growth;
For their success is tied to both.

Congratulations to a rising star
For you have been chosen to lead;
To challenge workers as you raise the bar;
Coach and use the right approach;
Feed their hunger to associate
With something special, something great.

Copyright © 2001 Orlando Ceaser